IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. is aware of the fact that our clients, healthcare providers, must comply with all aspects of confidentiality of patient data. IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. occasionally requires access to numerous data elements associated with patient medical information and provider information. IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. has taken steps to establish policies that ensure its compliance with HIPAA requirements.

IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. policies include, at a minimum, the following:

- All IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. employees are required to sign a confidentiality agreement with IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. These agreements provide IMAGE Information Systems Ltd. the right to terminate employment, if the confidentiality breach is deemed to be significant, harmful or damaging to IMAGE Information Systems Ltd., its clients, and its client's patients. These confidentiality agreements also provide sanctions for employees as recommended by HIPAA.
- All patient and provider specific information that we receive or generate as a result of delivering our installation, support, and maintenance services is treated as confidential, and it is not disclosed to those who do not have a need to view it in relation to the services we deliver to our clients. The electronic data is stored on secure computer servers and PC workstations, which are designed to require a unique user name and password to access such data. Such user names and passwords are also required to initiate any program that provides access to patient and provider specific information.
- All patient and provider information that exists in printed format or on CD/DVD is contained within designated working spaces, and is destroyed when no longer needed in the provision of services to our clients. Information that requires mailing is secured in a sealed envelope prior to leaving IMAGE Information Systems Ltd.'s premises.
